Workshop Invitation to Sweden + Funding Opportunity (Record Biomap Project)

Dear Biogas / Biomethane Stakeholder,

let us share 4 news with you!

Biomethane Day in Sweden: 22nd March 2018

Coming up next is our 3rd Stakeholder Workshop on 22nd March 2018 in Töreboda, Sweden. This workshop will combine demonstrations, presentations and a study visit under the theme: Small scale biogas upgrading and fueling with a European outlook

If you like to participate, please register until 8th March. Registration is free but space is limited. Here you can find more information about the programme >>>

Biomethane Webinar: Presentations are online!

For those of you, who could not join our webinar on "Innovative technologies for biomethane production in small and medium scale applications" on 21.02.2018, you may find the presentations on our project website for download.

Just visit our project website here: <https://biomethane-map.eu/webinar.webinar.0.html>

Funding opportunity: open call for a German/Swedish cooperation

You are looking for a funding possibility for the further development of your innovative product or application? Then you may check the 1st German-Swedish Call for Proposals for joint R&D projects by Small and Medium sized Enterprises (SMEs) for a possibility to fund an R&D (Research & Development) project with a German / Swedish partner. Vinnova (Swedish Governmental Agency for Innovation Systems) and the German Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs and Energy (through the Central Innovation Programme for SMEs (ZIM)) provide access to public funding for joint projects.

The announcement is available in German and English language:
